International Conference: Developments in Advanced High Strength Steel, Processing and Application (AHSS 2017)

Tata Steel Limited, in association with the Jamshedpur Chapter of Indian Institute of Metals, is organising an International Conference on Developments in Advanced High Strength Steel, Processing and Application (AHSS 2017). The conference will be held during 22nd – 23rd February, 2017 at Jamshedpur.

Scope of the Conference

With the increasing energy crisis and stringent environmental norms, energy saving and safety coupled with CO₂ emission have become the major issues for many industries such as automakers. Reduction in weight is turning out to be the most effective way in reducing the gas consumption and thus subsequent emission. At this juncture the family of Advanced High Strength Steels (AHSS) continues to evolve and grow in different applications such as automotive industry, lifting and excavation, line pipe steel etc. New steel types are already being used for improved performance. Looking at the market trend it may be envisaged that the emerging grades will be increasingly popular.

To achieve this goal, improved steelmaking practices and inclusion engineering at different stages of steelmaking and casting as well as subsequent heat treatment and rolling practices are important aspects to improve AHSS in terms of quality and achieving required strength and elongation.

In recent years, India has emerged as a very strong and potential country for advanced steel research. Thus an attempt is now being made to have a common platform for the world-renowned scientists and, technologists to discuss and share their views on the state of the art research findings on this topic. The challenges predicted for the future will also be addressed in this conference. This two day conference will have focused oral sessions with invited and contributory lectures by the eminent experts in this field. The conference is aimed at researchers, industrial practitioners, faculties and students from academic institutes. The participants will have the ample opportunity to enrich themselves from the exchange of information on long term experiences with the stalwarts from academia and industry.

Venue, Date and Language

The conference will be held during 22nd – 23rd February, 2017 at Hotel Alcor, Jamshedpur. All the details are displayed in www.ahss2017.com. The official language of the conference will be English.

City of Jamshedpur

Jamshedpur, as the burgeoning township of Sakchi, was renamed in 1919 as a tribute to Tata Steel's founder, is India's first planned industrial and most cosmopolitan city. It is situated in the eastern part of India and has a pleasant climate in February, temperatures hovering around 15°C at night and 25°C during day time. Jamshedpur is well connected with all the metros like New Delhi, Kolkata, Mumbai and Chennai by train. The nearby airports being situated at Ranchi and Kolkata. Nearest international airport is at Kolkata, which is 251 km (by rail) away from this city. The places of interest in Jamshedpur are Jubilee Park, Sir Dorabji Tata Park, Dimna Lake, Rivers' Meet, Tata Steel Zoological Park, Jubilee Amusement Park, etc.
